School Board Issues Appeal To Citizens For Backing In Fight To Keep Control Of Carmel Schools - - Attend Meeting Thursday, May 20

The members of the Carmel school board go into the firing line again Thursday when they face the Redistricting Committee, meeting in all day session at the Church of the Wayfarer board room at 10:00 in the morning. They have asked the citizens of Carmel to attend the meeting to back them up.

After the grilling the Carmel representatives received at the Pacific Grove meeting, that was supposed to be a discussion of how the various school boards felt about unifying the Peninsula schools under one administration but turned into a day long attack by committee members on the Carmel representatives, Carmel board members expect neither justice nor courtesy.

"All the members of the Carmel school board received an invitation to attend the meeting," Dr. Williams told The Pine Cone yesterday, "but from what went on, I felt as if we hadn't received an invitation but a subpoena. We were put on trial, for what crime I do not know, for an indictment was not read. We were put on the grill to explain why we had been so inconsiderate as to make public a statement of policy."

"The crime of the Carmel school board members is their opposition to the unification project which they believe would be disastrous both from an educational and a financial point of view for Carmel and Pacific Grove. Monterey, the largest district, would swallow up the smaller districts, would control the school administration of the entire Peninsula and take tax toll from the smaller richer districts to support their own larger poorer district, to the deprivation and lowering of the standards of the smaller.

That Monterey is hardly qualified to take on such administrative leadership is evident in the record of its blundering through the years. Dr. Williams pointed out. The latest case in point: the Monterey board has used up all its bond money that was intended for building secondary schools to build a junior college, and now they have no money for the high school. "It's as if a man had used up all his money to buy a mink coat for his wife when all her dresses were in rags." Peter Mawdsley, financial advisor to the Carmel school district, said, "In building this junior college, Monterey has crippled a well-established and growing Salinas Junior College, and used up all their funds that were needed badly for their secondary schools. Now they invite us to come into this mess."

He added that he sympathized with Monterey in its self-treated financial fiasco but that the burden of supporting Monterey schools should be spread over a wider tax base than its smaller neighbors. Help for poorer school districts should come from the state at large. "We do not object to paying our share when the burden is distributed fairly."

Scholastically, Monterey never has been so outstanding as to qualify as leader of a unified school district. "People come from all over the state to attend the Pacific Grove summer school. You never hear of them coming to Monterey for summer school," Mawdsley pointed out. "As a matter of fact, I have heard a Monterey business man recommending that his friend send his son to Pacific Grove high school, 'if you want him prepared for college.'"

As for Carmel, it has the record of sending the highest percentage of its students on to college. Monterey is low on the list.

"There is no way in which the unification could be worked out so that the smaller districts would have satisfactory representation on a unified school board," Dr. Williams said. "A representative from each district would result in an eight or nine man board which has been proved unwieldy and unsatisfactory. Nor do we want the old 'ward system' that has been proved again and again to be vicious, with its log rolling and other abuses. The only reasonable solution would be a five man board elected at large. In that case, Carmel would have no representation. We would lose control of our schools."

Since the April redistricting meeting Superintendent Stuart Mitchell has been speaking before Carmel clubs and organizations trying to put before the people the seriousness of the situation. He, as well as the school board, urges attendance at the meeting here Thursday to show the committee that the board has the solid support of the town behind it.

Youth Conference Opens Saturday At High School

Carmel High School is sponsoring a youth conference on Saturday, May 15, from 9:00 a. m. to 4 p. m. This conference which is being held under the direction of the California Youth Authority is being held as a follow-up meeting to the Governor's Conference on Youth Welfare held in Sacramento on January 30.

The topic for the day will be Planning With Youth for Community Co-ordination. Stuart Mitchell, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, is chairman of the meeting. The guest speaker at the luncheon will be George C. Bliss, chairman of the special Youth Committee of the California Secondary School Principals Association. Norman Nevraumont, field representative of the California Youth Authority, will also speak on the purpose of the conference.

The meeting will be divided into sections as follows: a section on Mental, Physical and Social Health under the chairmanship of Miss Muriel Wright, chief probation officer of Santa Clara county; a section studying Education, Guidance, and Employment with Eldon J. Covell, director of elementary education and guidance co-ordination of the Monterey Public schools, as chairman; a discussion group on Recreation and Group Work under the chairmanship of James Fontana, who is with the recreation department of the Watsonville Union High School.

Delegates were selected from groups most interested in youth problems. There will be representatives from Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Santa Clara and San Luis Obispo counties. In addition several state department representatives will be present.

Trio Will Play Seldom Heard Suite In Sunday Concert

The Pasmore Trio, which will appear next Sunday evening, at 8:30 o'clock at the Forest Hills Hotel in Pacific Grove, has been before the public since early childhood. When Dorothy, the cellist could hardly be seen behind her half-size instrument, the Trio made its first appearance in San Francisco. From then on, they were in demand constantly, and were acclaimed by press and public. When almost grown, they were taken by their parents to Europe for further study, and while there they played many times in concerts of their own. Upon their return to the United States, they made several transcontinental tours which took them into almost every state of the Union. Upon the marriage of two of the sisters, touring was abandoned, and the violinist and cellist became affiliated with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, of which organization she is still a member.

In the forthcoming concert Dorothy Pasmore, cellist of the Trio, will introduce a rarely heard number which she believes to be a first performance in California. A pupil of hers, visiting in Paris before the war, heard a Suite Gallante for cello, by Louis De Lune, played at a concert of the Pasdeloupe orchestra, and was so captivated by it that she sent a copy to Miss Pasmore, who found it most attractive, and will include it in her repertoire.

Miss Pasmore plays an exceedingly rare and valuable cello which was made in 1776 by the famous Italian instrument maker, Ferdinand Gagliano, and is one of the best preserved of all the old cellos. Of course, it is heavily insured, but it is irreplaceable.

Because of limited space only those presenting 1948 membership cards and signed guest tickets will be admitted.

TOWN HALL
The Monterey Peninsula Town Hall meeting scheduled for tonight at Sunset School has been canceled.

Possibilities For Good In Atomic Energy Discussed

Those who attended the first meeting of the Atomic Implications Study Group, at the Sunset School last night, learned some startling things about atomic energy.

Through its use gold has been changed into mercury (mercury has not yet been changed into gold). Other substances have been transmuted into other substances.

6,000,000 or more new organic compounds not known in nature are due to be developed, whether for man's service or detriment no one yet knows. Practically everything we eat and wear is a hydrocarbon, made up of hydrogen and carbon in varying relationships and quantities. The new compounds will parallel these, with hydrogen replaced with fluorine.

New elements not found in nature have been created.

Cosmic substances not found on earth have been created.

We may for the first time learn how plants create leaves and energy out of carbon dioxide, water vapor and the sun's heat. If we learn this we may be able to produce artificial foods and even utilize the sun's rays for creating power.

Men are expected to create cold light, as bright as the ordinary electric bulb.

Plants grow better, through a better understanding of the utilization of fertilizers, and through destruction of some plant diseases.

Great progress will be made in the cure of certain types of cancer.

County Symphony Closes Season With Enjoyable Concert

By Zoe Kernick

Performing a functional service as well as an aesthetic one, the Monterey County Symphony Association, Inc., presented the Symphony orchestra Wednesday night at the Sunset School Auditorium. Roots of a flourishing culture are to be found in the villages as well as in the large cities. The horizontal accumulation of orchestras, art galleries, literary activities, across the entire country is the final count of the national cultural level; each performing unit is what gives basis to the structure. In such a broad perspective we find the significance of such an orchestra as the Monterey County Symphony.

The first section of the program was conducted by Clifford Anderson. The orchestra followed his even beat like the large hand of a clock swings rhythmically round to the pulse of the dominant smaller hand. A melodic nostalgia hung over the first three numbers: J. Massenet's Phedre Overture, Jean Sibelius' Valse Triste, and Beethoven's subtle second movement of the Seventh Symphony. Then came Johann Strauss' lively Perpetuum Mobile.

In reverse process, the second section, under the capable direction of Lorell McCann, began with Richard Wagner's March from Tannhauser, then sunk into the sweet depths of Benjamin Godard's Adagio Pathetique, C. M. Von Weber's Concertina with Daniel N. Snell as clarinet soloist, and swept into the emotional storm center of Franz Liszt's difficult Les Preludes Symphonic Poem.

A relatively small but fervent audience listened enthusiastically to the well-trained smooth playing of the orchestra.

Board Asks For Suggestions In Naming School

Naming of the projected school on Dolores Street is becoming more and more of a problem, the Carmel school board found at the regular meeting Tuesday evening. It all began innocently enough at last month's meeting, when Lloyd Miller of the high school commercial department submitted a plan for a city-wide contest to name the elementary school on which construction is expected to begin soon. Miller's proposal was countered by a suggestion by the Carmel P. T. A. that the name "The Clara N. Kellogg School" be adopted, in memory of the late prominent figure in Carmel educational affairs. The board reached no decision, and the matter was tabled for further consideration.

Members of the board reported Tuesday night, however, that there is considerable public opposition to the use of a proper name, as being a departure from Carmel tradition. Dr. L. A. Williams offered a list of suggestions from local citizens that included such names as Hillside, Hilltop, Pine Ridge, Woodside, and Prospect. No decision could be reached in the matter, and at the suggestion of Superintendent Stuart Mitchell, an invitation was issued to the public to write the board so that a cross-section might be had as a basis for the final decision.

Salary increases for both certificated and non-certificated employees are provided in revised salary schedules approved Tuesday night. These provide for yearly increases of $375 for teachers in both schools, and $400 for administrators, effective July 1.

The proposed opening date of school, previously set as August 30, was changed to the first Tuesday in September, since the early

FORT ORD AND PINE CONE SOFTBALL TILT TONIGHT

Heralded as the best softball team ever organized at Fort Ord, the 1948 edition will cross bats with the Carmel Pine Cone nine tonight at Sunset Field. The soldiers clashed with the mighty Dons from Castroville last week and were just barely nosed out, 4 to 3. Carmel fans well know the prestige of the Dons and realize that it takes a good club to get close to them. In the Castroville-Fort Ord game, the Castroville pitchers, Moore and Smick, struck out 17 Ord swingers, while the Ord chucker sent 15 Dons back to the bench via the strikeout route.

The Pine Cone nine is rapidly rounding into a smooth-working unit and should provide an interesting evening for the soldiers. The old reliable, Ky Miyamoto, will serve up the slants for the locals, and, off his performance against the Will Plumber's last Saturday night, will give the Fort Ord batters a good test.

PINE CONE WHIPS WILSON PLUMBERS, 8 TO 2

Last Saturday night at Sunset Field, the Pine Cone softball nine racked up their second victory of the 1948 season when they upset the strong Wilson Plumbers from Santa Cruz. The Plumbers won the Santa Cruz title last year and presented a good fielding and hitting club, but their pitching was below standard. The Pine Cone presented the visitors with their two runs when they committed miscues with runners on the bases. Good base running by the Pine Cone, and excellent use of the drag bunt kept the Plumber infield in a jittery state for most of the contest.

Don Edwards, Hollister high school baseball coach, pitched the first five innings for the Pine Cone and showed a world of stuff. With a blazing fast ball and a tricky change of pace, Don would have pitched shutout ball except for damaging errors in the field. Ky Miyamoto, the peer of softball pitchers in this area, took over the hurling chores in the sixth canto and held the visitors helpless for the rest of the game.

Richey Walters, Pine Cone center fielder, was the leading scorer for the locals. Walters drew three walks from his leadoff position and crossed the platter for a brace of tallies. With his tremendous speed and fast start, Richey will cause plenty of uneasy moments for the opposition this season. Jim Kelsey and Jack Giles were the successful hitters against the Plumber pitching.

PADRES EDGES K.C., 6-5; LOSE TO GONZALES, 5-4

In their final games of the current CCAL season, the Carmel High School nine broke even with King City and Gonzales. The locals eked out a 6-5 win over the King City Mustangs, and dropped a 5-4 tilt to the classy Gonzales pastimers. The King City game was a nip and tuck affair from the opening pitch, and it took a perfect squeeze play to put the Padres over a winner. Walter Frey engineered the squeeze play which sunk the Mustangs. Dick Sumner took over the mound duties against King City, but found himself in hot water in the second frame and Lee Winslow came to his rescue. Lee held the visitors pretty well in check for the duration of the fray and received credit for the win.

One bad inning spelled the downfall for Carmel in the game with Gonzales. The Spartans took advantage of three Carmel boots in the second inning to shove over five runs, which were enough to cinch the victory. Newt Goodrich and Walt Frey were the only Padre hitters to solve the offerings of the Spartan pitchers. Lew McCreery, Carmel catcher, turned in a splendid job behind the plate, and his accurate throwing cut off six Gonzales base runners.

The Padres have one more game remaining on the '48 schedule, meeting the Salinas Cowboys today. This game will be played at Salinas and will be a rough test for the locals, as the Salinas nine won the A division of the CCAL.

FINAL ABALONE GAMES TO BE PLAYED SUNDAYStandings

Shamrocks	5	2
Tigers	4	3
Pilots	0	7

Jay Huffman's fighting Shamrocks caught the league leading Giants in an over-confident mood last Sunday and knocked them off their high perch in the Abalone League race. Until last Sunday the Giants had a snug hold on first place and figured to cinch the flag with a victory over the Shamrocks. However, Manager Whiteside neglected to notify the Shamrocks to take it easy and the

WAYFARER CHURCH LEAGUE

Highlight of the annual meeting of the Church League at the Church of the Wayfarer on Monday evening was the report on Youth Fellowship activities given by Betty Plaxton. This group has adopted a German family of eight persons in the British occupation zone and have so far sent them seven boxes of food and clothing and five CARE parcels. The young people of high school and early college age carry on interesting activities at the church on Sunday evenings.

Other reports on work of the league, which is the governing body of the church, were given by E. K. Neroda, treasurer; Charles E. Corbin, auditor; Durbin Sayers for the executive committee; William H. Hamilton, religious education director; Mrs. Carmalita Benson, Women's Auxiliary; and the minister, Dr. K. Fillmore Gray. The latter reported 236 weddings performed in the church by him in the past 11 months, and 31 more either at the manse or by other ministers in the church. Membership is 273.

For the coming year officers forming the executive committee were elected as follows: president of the league, C. E. Corbin; vice-president, Harlan Rayburn; treasurer, E. K. Neroda; Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Hugo Bedau, Dr. Henry S. Houghton; church trustees, D. Sayers; chairman religious education, Howard E. Timbers; minister, Dr. Gray.

Members of the board of trustees chosen are Alfred Matthews, H. F. Jurs, Dr. A. A. Greene, J. A. Canoles, Dr. Blanchard Steeves, Mrs. Alice Beardsley, Charles Twining, and Mrs. Edna Lockwood; chairmen of committees are Miss Etta Paul, communion; Mrs. Tom Douglas, altar; Mrs. Steeves, garden; Harry Hilbert, ushers; Byron B. Blout, auditing. The nominating committee who presented the names are Mrs. D. E. Nixon, Mrs. Bedau, Mrs. Timbers, and Dr. Gray. Following the business the members of the league enjoyed a social hour with refreshments served by Mrs. Girard Henderson and her committee.

Edward Ricketts

Edward F. Ricketts, marine biologist and author, died shortly after noon Tuesday at the Monterey Hospital of injuries received Saturday when his car was struck by the Del Monte Express near his home and laboratory in Cannery Row. Taken to the hospital by ambulance, he underwent a three-hour operation before sinking into a coma from which he failed to rally.

His marine biological laboratory at 800 Ocean View Avenue was a favorite gathering place for his many friends on the Peninsula. It was the setting for short stories by John Steinbeck and appeared in Steinbeck's Cannery Row, as did Ricketts himself as "Doc." He was the author (with Jack Calvin) of Between Pacific Tides, a reference book on marine life, and co-author of Sea of Cortez, written in collaboration with John Steinbeck.

Over 25 years of notes on marine tidal life were destroyed when his laboratory burned in the Cannery Row fire of 1936. He rebuilt the laboratory and built up one of the most complete files of tidal animals on the west coast, sending specimens to schools in all parts of the world.

Steinbeck and Ricketts had been planning a trip to the Charlotte Islands to gather material

Glenn Clairmonte To Talk On Wilder Before Civic Club

This afternoon at 2:00 o'clock Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte will speak on the subject of Thornton Wilder's novels before the Monterey Civic Club at the House of the Four Winds.

Cheerful, attractive Mrs. Clairmonte has done extensive writing of poetry and prose and has won many prizes for her poems. She was right hand man for publisher Samuel McClure and collaborated with him on a book.

During World War I she did staff work in Navy headquarters in France, being the only American woman volunteer on the staff. Since then she has lived in Cuba, New York, and Alaska, and now dwells in a Carmel cottage, conducting Monday night fiction classes, and Tuesday night classes in literature for the adult school.

COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN

There were 104 at the tables at the May breakfast of the Monterey Peninsula Council of Church Women at the Presbyterian Church in Monterey last Friday—and the women of the hostess church were working in the kitchen. With Mrs. Ramsey Benson presiding over the business session, reports were given on the year's activities. Election of officers for two year terms made Mrs. M. O. Lawrence of Pacific Grove, president, Mrs. Jessie Wade, first vice-president, and Mrs. Rachel Welch, corresponding secretary. The other officers continue until next year.

At 2:00 o'clock the program in the sanctuary began with devotions centered on children and home. Miss Ruth Sally sang the for a new book. He leaves his wife, Alice; three children, Edward Ricketts, Jr., of San Francisco, Mrs. Nancy Pickering of Baltimore, and Cornelia Ricketts of Los Gatos; a brother, Thayer Ricketts of Chicago; and a sister, Mrs. Fred Strong of Carmel. Mr. Ricketts was a native of Chicago.

A private service was held from the Paul Mortuary.

HERE FOR COOPER CLUB

Mr. Otto J. Zahn, one of the directors of the California Audubon Society, came north from Los Angeles to attend the Cooper Ornithological club meeting at Asilomar on May 7, 8 and 9. While here he was the guest of Mr. James Mason at the Log Cabin.

Lord's Prayer, and Trees; Dan Le Noir Hosack sang He That Dwelleth in the Secret Place of the Most High, by MacDermid, and Alleluia, by Mozart. Mrs. Hosack is studying vocal music with Lawrence Strauss in San Francisco. A serious and earnest discussion of the problems of youth delinquency by County Probation Officer John Kelly completed the program.

Private services were held Saturday at the Little Chapel by the Sea Crematorium, with the Paul Mortuary in charge of funeral arrangements.

Color photography by Ethel Sherburne of Carmel, formerly of New York, is the next offering for Leota Tucker's adult education photography class. The pictures are eastern and western scenes including special artistic cloud effects. There will be movies each Monday evening and still will be shown on June 7. Doris Schmiedell and Beatrice Ralston showed interesting slides last Monday. All the students are helping to establish an open photograph forum.

Arts And Crafts Show Of High Order Now At Art Shop

A truly exciting exhibit is to be seen at the Seven Arts Gallery where a show of pottery, silver, and textiles is being sponsored by the Carmel Art Shop. Not only are the individual pieces beautiful and skillfully worked but the harmonious display is worthy of a New York museum show and displays the intelligent co-operation of the three artists, Siminoff, Lovera, and Rosene, who put the show together. Each corner, wall space and table fulfills its decorative function, and each art piece blends in color and design with the other.

Upholstery and drapery and mats were shown by Siminoff in materials woven of copper or gold or silver and rayon with undulating nuances of blues and lavenders. Artistic co-operation is shown again in the turquoise and copper lamp shade she wove with a ceramic base designed by Lovera; and again in the blue pottery Lovera bowl with a silver cover made by Rosene. The silver designed by the latter, from earrings to coffee spoons, is incredibly beautiful in its utter simplicity.

All of the artists are professionals and after witnessing countless art and craft displays you will be amazed to find one that so completely outranks most of the others you've seen. Rosene, competing with heaven knows how many potters up and down the coast, still manages to design originally and with great quality.

The show will last until May 31 and anyone interested in functional-art objects is invited to see it. —Z. K.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose... no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Arts And Crafts Al Fresco

Carmel sunshine and nature's back drop set the lower stage in the Forest Theatre meadow for the Arts and Crafts exhibit at the Flower Fiesta last weekend. Navy signal flags, loaned by Monterey Naval Reserve Unit, waved gaily in the breeze. Redwood booths by Mercury Homes housed artists in action. The pine sapling lattice of the center fence served as open air picture gallery. Sculptured wood and pottery dotted tables and the greensward and gay scarves hung from tree branches.

The hard working hanging committee, Hoyland Bettinger, Sam Colburn, Kay Rodgers, Sam Wainwright and Frederick Haas, arranged for display 97 oils, water colors and drawings. The over all standard was good. They were well presented for hanging. They ran from six delightful water colors complete with "giraffe" and "little red hen" by four year olds from the Bluejay Nursery School to the work of Carmel's most accomplished artists. The emphasis was, however, upon the work of students and amateurs, the professionals nobly answering a last minute call as the entries failed to grow in number. Represented were the art students of Sister Dolores Julie of Junipero Serra School, Sam Colburn at Douglas School, Beatrice Rea at Sunset, Richard Hagadorn at Carmel High School, and students of Kay Rodgers, Lee Randolph, Henrietta Shore, John Cunningham and Nancy Johnson. The Wall Gallery gathered paintings and sculpture from Monterey and Pacific Grove. Miss Edith Heath donated two pictures as first and consolation prizes in a raffle.

Working in the painter's booth were Sam Colburn and James Scott doing quick portraits. Ferdinand Bergdorf used the booth Saturday for a well attended lecture on How to Paint a Masterpiece in Five Minutes, but caused cries of regret when he scraped his land and seascape from his canvas as it was completed. Sunday, however, his lecture from the stage ended by his auction of the picture to the highest bidder. Drawn by the gay colors of the flower section, Kay Rodgers, Sam Wainwright and Hoyland Bettinger painted oils on the spot. Mr. Bettinger's picture will be on display at the Carmel Gallery.

In and surrounding the sculpture booth were woodcarvings by Paul McReynolds, Clancy Bates and Howell Armor, and by students of the adult carving class at Carmel High School, Viola Raeburne, Genevieve Koch, William Wilson, Art Weisender, and Josephine Frame. Bowls, trays, animals, fish and figures emerged from native woods and woods from the far corners of the globe. Ann Rowland Nesbitt's terra cotta garden figure dipped an imaginary toe in a non-existent pool. Wind filled the sails of a Gloucester schooner by Seymore Goessling of Pacific Grove. Mr. Wilson and Commander Armor chiseled wood and answered questions about a bowl taking shape and an owl emerging from a tree stump.

Flanking this booth were tables of Gypsy Coulter's linen and dolls and Elia Rudneff's sculpture, jewelry, etched glass and gaily painted silk, complete with madly red silk pajamas and madder Russian dancers.

The Camera Club and Leota Tucker's Adult Photo Class were as well represented as the photographic booth would allow. Mrs. Tucker, Miss Vivian Ogden and George Seideneck (when he wasn't fixing blown fuses) arranged the show. It included work by the students, by Muri and Vivian Ogden, Stewart Mitchell, Morley Baer, George Cain and Francis Whitaker and color pictures by Stanley and Russell Cummings. Mr. Seideneck and Mr. Cain took colored pictures of the show.

In the textile booth there were two looms operated by Mrs. Jean Pasmore and her adult school students, Mrs. Fay Strickland and Mrs. Katherine Briggs. The booth was crowded with rugs and cloth by the students, and by Mrs. E. M. Beecher, Mrs. Tage Skogsberg, painted silk by Louise McClure, block printing by Doris Ormsby, screen printing by Mrs. Marian Brueck and painted scarves by Walter Bruce.

The ceramic booth overflowed to tables of the lovely cups, plates and jewelry of Virginia and Barbara Blair, Dorothy Bassett's bowls using Carmel Valley clay, and Virginia Varda's Red Barn pottery. Ernest Calley filled the booth with work of his students and of Mrs. Beecher and Margaret Lang. Glenn Minschall, a newcomer to Carmel, delighted young, old and your age and mine with magic on his potter's wheel. His arrangement of benches around the wheel was his own idea to allow small fry to get their ever-curious eyes up to a level where they could see what was going on. And how they ate it up!

The response to such a community project was mighty fine for a beginning. Such a show should create new interest in the artistic and craft opportunities of Carmel. As a periodic affair it could draw tourists for the occasion. As a common meeting ground for craftsmen, students and purchasers, it has possibilities. Commander Armor says it was successful in that by Monday evening everything had been returned except an empty picture frame, a Girl Scout neckerchief, and the usual "black lady's glove." He wants all criticism in writing so that the signatures can comprise next year's committee.

Spring Fiesta Impressions

BY FLORA HARTWELL

"A Garden is a lovesome thing Got wot,
Rose plot,
Fringed pool,
Ferned grot,
The veriest school of peace!
'Tis very true God walks in mine."

Last weekend the Forest Theatre with its towering pines, its sturdy oaks, and its far-off view of blue-hazed mountains was transformed into one great garden and who under its spell could say God was not there?

The sun filtering through the leafy branches cast a charm over the woodsy scene and peace reigned supreme. It was indeed a great inspirational experience for all visitors sensitive to the appeal of beauty.

All honor to Alf Nilssen whose intuitive vision realized the possibilities of the Theatre as a setting for the show; to Mrs. Helen C. Cranston and Mrs. Henry Van Dyke who, as co-over-all-chairmen gave months of planning for its accomplishment; to Amy Campbell, responsible for the artistic placements of the flower exhibits; and to Mrs. F. E. Naftzger, general manager of the grounds.

Entering the gateway of the Theatre, one at once felt the effects of the enchanting atmosphere. A little path flanked by landscapes in miniature led to a tranquil fern fringed pool, designed by Alan Campbell, in which floated charming ceramic lilies and other water plants created by Mrs. Blanche Casey. The path ended at the Flower Mart. A "host of daffodils" and other gay blossoms tempted the visitor to stop and buy. Here Mrs. Noel Arnold demonstrated Art in Action as her deft fingers designed exquisite corsages to match the gown of my lady. Here, too, was Mrs. Hoyland Bettinger with palette and brush putting on canvas the scene which was reminiscent of the Flower Marts of Paris.

The peaceful Fern Garden of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ryan was near by, looking so woodsy and natural that it might have belonged to the forest primeval. The breath taking scene on the great theatre stage next came into view with its two fairland houses from which it seemed Hansel and Gretel might emerge at any moment to gather rare blossoms from the delightfully landscaped garden, gay with azalea, rhododendrons, and primroses designed by Mrs. F. L. Knudsen and her committee.

This scene produced a whimsical mood preparing the visitor for true appreciation of the poetic, mystical miniature Persian gardens created by Millicent Gilder and Elizabeth Norris. A drop back of a Persian town, by Ida M. Curtis (assisted by Joan Dohman) was done in soft dreamy pastel shades which seemed reflected in the tiny garden below. This garden might belong to any home in the pictured town. In it ran a little stream of tiny blue forget-me-nots. On its bank was the traditional bough of Omar Khayyam protecting a tiny loaf, a flask of wine and a book of verse. Every garden must have its Persian rug. This was created by massing almost microscopic blossoms into an exquisite colored pattern. Standing before the garden the visitor seemed to perceive strains of soft music emanating from its mystic loveliness.

The Salinas Woman's Club display of arrangements was one of the high spots of the show for originality and sheer beauty. In an alcove near by was Mrs. W. G. Hunt's exhibit of fine flower arrangements. So simple and so exquisite in line and color were they that the ensemble gave one the feeling of a pilgrim who had reached the shrine of his devotions. A shrine it was, for it contained the serene figure of the Goddess of Flowers (oriental) who bestowed her benediction upon it.

Under the stage was a room filled with most beautiful flower arrangements. The dominant features here were the wedding altar by the N B Flower Shop and the bride's table designed by Mrs. W. H. Hargrave with its three-tiered wedding cake, its bride's banquet, and a white prayer book a century old. Candles in crystal candelabra threw a soft glow over it all.

An amusing note at the show was Miss Dorothy Bingham as an Italian organ grinder. Her monkey's tin cup received fifty dollars in small change.

The artistic success of this year's show seems to foreshadow the realization of the dream some of us have had for years that the Spring Festival would evolve into a great inspirational fete of beauty comparable in its statewide appeal to our renowned Bach Festival.

The Time Has Come . .

By Kippy Stuart

There are embarrassing moments for the gardener. My embarrassment has to do with the "pot calling the kettle black." Me . . . I am the pot, for I called my neighbor's kettle black. There was a "beam" in my own eye and I foolishly pointed out the "mote" in his. All this has to do with lantana. This is supposed to be a hardy shrub that had the sense to take care of itself. I scarcely ever look at my lantana, aside from giving it water and food. I expect it to respond on its own.

I was wandering in my neighbor's garden. He was popping questions at me like buckshot. We stopped beside his year old lantana bushes. I was shocked! I was horrified! The bushes were drooping, scrawny, the leaves were twisted and stuck together. The plants had that sickly look that used to scare me to death. He asked, "What is wrong with that lantana? I've never seen it look like that." Whereupon, I drew myself up to my full width and replied scornfully, "Shame on you! Those bushes are crawling with aphides." The gentleman looked crestfallen and asked, "Have your lantana bushes got aphides?" In a superior way I replied, "Most certainly not. You just come over and see for yourself."

My neighbor came over all right to see for himself and I shall have a hard time living that moment down. There stood my own lantana hedge behaving itself exactly in the same manner as my neighbor's lantana was behaving. Aphides and ants were having a picnic and my bushes were supplying the picnic lunch. Long, ugly branches were sulking, and black smut that is the residue leavings of the ants when they have finished milking the aphides, covered the bushes. There was a very long silence. My neighbor was shaking with laughter and sputtered, "Shame on you!" And shame was upon me.

The truth of the matter is that these fiendish aphides can make their appearance almost over night and once established they go to town in a big way. If I had given my lantana even moderate care, such as washing off the under side of the leaves with the hose . . . or an occasional spray of nicotine, they would have been saved. As matters stand now, our lantana must go to work on its own to restore the damage already done. The bushes will survive, but we have lost at least a month's growth and the flowers will be late in coming.

Don't worry too much about this little aphid. There is plenty of grief ahead for the Peninsula gardener. Lookie! Thrip, red spider, white fly . . . all sorts of annoyances await us, and the greatest of these is thrip. Aphides is easy to diagnose; not so thrip. Watch for gray, ghost-like streaks on leaves and stalks. Thrip is not visible to the naked eye. Take a piece of white paper, tap a branch or flower lightly over the paper. If thrip is present, small bits like black pepper will fall upon the paper. The black specks will remain very quiet for a second or two. (This is thrip playing possum.) Suddenly the thrips will start off in all directions, scurrying hither and yon, looking for comfortable quarters on your bushes. A good spraying of nicotine will banish the thrip for a time. But he will come back . . . and come back . . . on . . . far into the night.

"WORLD'S LONGEST SPEAKING TUBE"

now pipes calls East

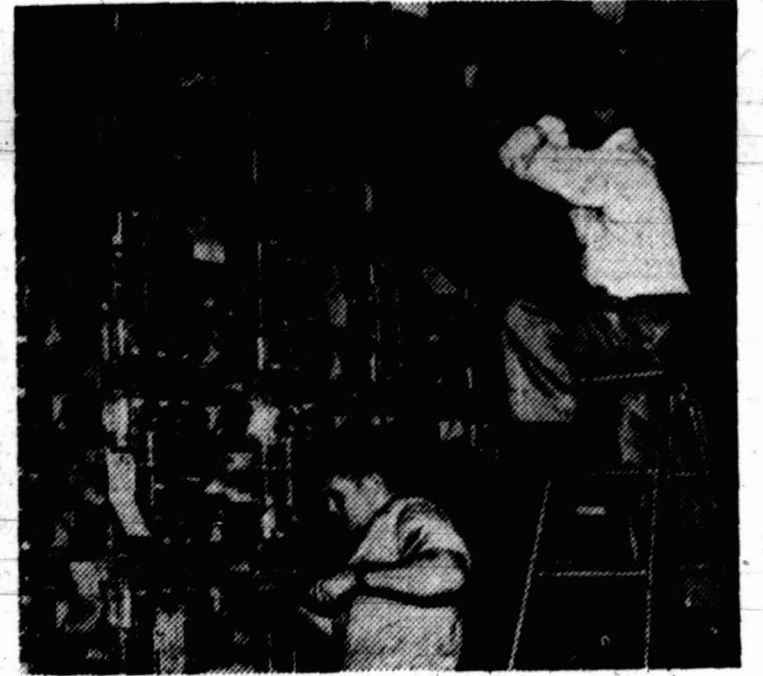

1. Imagine packing 500 voices together in a tube no bigger than a pencil and sorting them out distinctly at the end! That's what we're doing with coaxial cable. Radio-type waves whisk calls through pipes... instead of on wires...allowing one "co-ax" to do the work of a number of the more usual kinds of long distance cable.

2. We plant "co-ax" with giant plows that lay the cable in one operation. Every eight miles a "booster station" keeps calls going through clearly. For—incredible as it seems—high frequency waves fade so rapidly in the cable that all the sun's energy, if it could be funneled into the pipes, would not carry half-way across the country.

Millions of new working dollars, needed to extend and improve service, must come—not from telephone bills—but from thousands of people who put their savings to work in the telephone business. To attract these working dollars, we must pay a reasonable amount for their use. We can do this only if we sell our services at fair and adequate prices.

3. "End of the line"...it takes huge panels of complex equipment like this to sort out the calls carried by just one cable. Since December, calls have been going back and forth from the Coast to the East over 2300 miles of "co-ax." And we're adding still more cables to augment long distance service for the growing telephone population on the Coast.

Have You Read . . . ?

By L. L. T.

Following is a brief condensation of a review of Bartley Crum's Behind the Silken Curtain, published in 1947 by Simon and Schuster, given by Miss Eleanor Crouch last week for the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer. Miss Crouch is librarian of Carmel schools, both Sunset and the High School.

This type of book has excellent educational value for adults, especially in a time of pressing international problems, but like many books inspired by the troubled world conditions, it has a certain point of view to sell. In order to judge it fairly, we need to know the author. Bartley Crum is a San Francisco corporation lawyer, Catholic, Republican, liberal, and he has written a book that is readable and interesting. It is a chronological account of the investigation by the Anglo-American Commission on Palestine, six members from each of the two countries, sent by the United Nations to study the camps of displaced persons and the Arab claims to the country held by British mandate for twenty-five years, and also the Jewish interest in the land. Mr. Crum, who volunteered for the commission, was at first turned down, then later accepted.

The Balfour Declaration of 1917, promising the Jews a home in Palestine, was the basis of the League of Nation's action in giving Great Britain the mandate over the country. The British White Paper of 1939 reversed this attitude to one favoring the Arabs, and the rival claims of the two peoples have brought the chaotic conditions that are incipient war. Britain set an annual quota of 75,000 Jewish immigrants, which was not filled during the war; this seems to justify the demand for immediate admission of 100,000 Jews. The Commission found that seventy-five per cent of the 600,000 Jews in European displaced persons camps wanted to go to Palestine, which only a small percentage preferred the United States.

The Commission observed very deplorable conditions for agriculture in Palestine, with serious soil erosion and primitive cultivation except where the Jews introduced modern soil conservation and scientific methods of farming. On the other hand the Arabs fought all types of industrialization and application of science to their agriculture. They claimed the area as their home for 700 years, and ruled under a feudal system that benefited the native princes while the majority of people led a miserable existence. Into this feudal society the Jews brought modern methods and ideas that upset the ancient privileges and roused opposition of the rulers. The Commission found in Egypt progressive young Arabs who were interested in Jewish immigration into Palestine as good for promoting democracy and improving the standard of living.

After studying conditions in Palestine and the way the Jews had improved agriculture and established progressive settlements, the Commission retired to Switzerland to prepare their findings. They recommended the immediate admission of 100,000 Jews to the country, with more as the country became able to absorb them, and they advised partition. The British government brushed aside the recommendations and the findings were largely suppressed. This book is the result, as is a similar book written by a British member of the Commission. According to Bartley Crum, there can be "no peace in the feudalism of the past instead of the progress of the future."

LAST HORIZON

*The day I looked upon this land
And saw the strong hills shouldering the sky,
The hunger for horizons that had haunted me was gone.
The old nostalgic cry that shook my blood was silent.
The flying goal was overtaken.
The West was mine—
More native than the soil I had forsaken.*

*The West was mine by right of recognition.
The partridge-colored earth was intimate;
The lingual water lapping at the shore
Conversed in syllables I understood.
Diablo's summit looming suddenly
Was not unknown to me.
The Lady of Tamalpais looking toward the sea
Revived old legends I had learned before.
The Golden Gate in just the right position,
Confirmed the prickling tide of intuition.*

—IRENE WILDE.

HEATHER SOUNDS

*Under a heath sky
All the heather sounds
Falling to magenta . . .
The long-twiggled night
Bringing a leafed moon,
A claw sound among leaves—
And the dark rhythm of waters.*

*A bright wing touching the heath-bell—
Spotted armor climbing the fern-frond—
Yellow sounds between yarrow.*

—ORIAN DEPLEDGE.

CARMEL IN THE RAIN

*Streets deserted save for rivolets;
Shelter among books; a fireside;
Rain pelting every roof,
Sometimes deafening voices.
(How warm the fire while rivolets rush by!)*

*Overhead a tree, a branch, a twig
And every needle's end
A glistening crystal globe.
(The wonder of it!)*

*Shore deserted in the rain;
Softly dripping cypress;
Sand lying flat;
Surf more beautiful than ever.
(How welcoming the sound!)*

*Stalwart pines swaying with the wind;
Below two sparrows, shunning shelter,
Seeking among pine-needles on the ground,
Ruffling their feathers.
(I too, a sparrow—Seeking in the rain.)*

By DAISY BOSTICK

CHAPTER V.

When it was proposed to pave Ocean Avenue it caused one of the bitterest fights in our history. The wife of a well-known author indulged in a fit of temper and threw a pot of geraniums at one of the Trustees who was calling on her husband. The caller was at that time making a determined fight for the paving program and when the two men became a bit heated in their argument, the wife let go with her deadly geranium pot. The blow didn't prove fatal and the Trustee lived to harass the reactionaries with his attempts to turn the village into "an ordinary small town."

Those who never saw our main street as it was twenty-five years ago couldn't possibly imagine the ruts and bumps, the danger to life and limb in trying to drive from Junipero down to the sea. The courageous motorist who ventured on the hair-raising escapade of guiding his Model T along its pitfalls might well consider it a picnic to drive from Alp to Alp in Switzerland, and pedestrians would take to the protection of the nearest tree at the approach of the car.

But in spite of the inconveniences to both motorists and pedestrians, the artistic population loved their Ocean Avenue just as it was, bumps and all. It was nature in the rough—and very rough. They were not possessors of automobiles.

Despite the protestants of the paving program the Board of Trustees were all for it. They sat on the other side of the fence for they were car-owners and their sympathies were naturally with drivers, and they let it be known that they were inclined to a paving program. This came as a distinct shock to the artistic element. Their Garden of Eden was in a fair way to be destroyed. They sought out each other for comfort and went into huddles at various houses. Floating out into the still night fog and echoing through the trees came low growls with menacing and vituperative remarks about the Board of Trustees and all their kind. They did some organizing and formed a determined backlog of opposition.

Nothing daunted, the Board went steadily on with determination to see this thing through. The paving ordinance was drafted and notices posted through the district announcing the coming bond election. A fight was on once more but again the old-timers were defeated, the measure carrying by a very small margin.

The losers refused to accept defeat. Perry Newberry and Argyll Campbell were not only authors but they were good ex-politicians, who had experienced success in larger cities, and here was a game they loved to play. They delved into their legal and technical knowledge and found many flaws in the way the election was held. Notices that had been posted all through the district were supposed to be a certain number of feet apart and the Marshal, Gus Englund, who had remained seated astride of his horse while doing the posting had placed them mainly on such places as he could reach from his saddle with a fine disregard for spacing. Several other technicalities were found. The paving objectors took heart.

They issued a formal protest declaring that the election was illegal. It was filed at Salinas and on the day of the hearing all Carmel flocked to the County Seat. Those who were "for" the ordinance took seats on one side of the aisle and the "againsts" occupied the other side. The aisle divided the sheep from the goats. The proponents of the ordinance wore placards pinned to their chests with the words GOOD ROADS printed on them.

For a long day the opposing sides glared at each other and muttered grimly, while belligerent citizens sat in the witness box and testified for and against. At the close of the afternoon weary Judge Bardin, who was trying the case, announced that he would adjourn the court and take the

Richard Kroth To Exhibit Paintings, Give Classes Here

The Rudolf Steiner Study Group of Carmel will sponsor an exhibition of paintings, lectures and classes by Richard Kroth of New York from June 2 to June 6. The 19 paintings in the exhibition, now showing in Los Angeles at the Frances Webb Galleries, will be shown in Carmel at the H. L. Frisbie furniture store on Dolores Street near Eighth.

Richard Kroth will give lectures based on Goethe's Theory of Color as developed by Rudolf Steiner, followed by introductory painting classes, which will give those participating an indication of exercises which lead to experiencing and using color as Goethe described. The lectures and classes will be held in the lunch room at Sunset School June 2, 3, 4, and 5 at 8:00 p. m.

Mr. Kroth has had four one man shows in New York City, exhibiting at the Norlyst Gallery, Staten Island Museum, Bryn Mawr Art Center and at Midtown Galleries. His pictures are made up of overlapping, interweaving veils and loops of color, and make an immediate impression of sustained brilliance of color.

matter under advisement. In a few days his decision was made known and it was in favor of those who had protested the election. Such rejoicing! That night the bells rang, there were spaghetti suppers washed down with red wine, and dancing in the little redwood houses to the music of squeaky phonographs.

But the matter wasn't ended. An ordinance was very carefully prepared by the Board, so as not to leave any loopholes, and this time they didn't risk a special election but passed it themselves.

So the concrete pavement had finally won.

Shortly after the Mayor picked up his gavel, the rest of the Board their chairs, the City Clerk and Tax Collector their files and they moved to the Tom Morgan building on Dolores Street. This was dubbed the City Hall and remained the headquarters of Carmel's governing body until last year.

We can hardly believe our Engine Ears

Illustrated is the Buick SUPER with 115 hp. Hi-Poised Fireball straight-eight. White sidewall tires, as shown, available at extra cost.

WE don't mind admitting we've been pretty proud of our big Fireball straight-eight engine.

A lot of brain-sweat went into making it lively — and as for

*Micropoise balancing is Buick's own method of scientifically balancing the complete engine after assembly to superfine limits.

SECRET OF THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Two fat cushions of special composition, and placed with scientific accuracy, suspend the Buick engine at the points where vibration is most readily controlled. A third new mounting at the rear completes a precise system of controlling engine vibration frequencies. The result is to shield the entire car against vibration, build-up and make a noticeably smoother ride.

smoothness, we don't know of any power plant that gets the loving care lavished on this Micropoised* beauty.

So we thought we knew the song and the feel of an engine as smooth as automobile engines could be.

Then — well, then our engineers came up with Hi-Poised mountings and really opened our eyes — and ears.

At idling speed, you have to shush all conversation and cock an alert ear to make sure the engine's running.

Rolling along the road, the whisper of your tires rises higher than this smoothie's contented murmur.

More than that, you find that the whole ride seems smoother, quieter, more restful and easy in these tidy '48 Buicks.

You soon discover that it's unnecessary to ease yourself over rough spots where ordinarily you would engage in a little extra clutch work, while many a little shudder that used to pass for clutch chatter has been wiped away.

In short, as one owner has put it, "Now it seems that Fireball power is wearing velvet gloves!"

Add all this to other things — to steady-going size and weight, to gentle coil springing, to big, cushiony low-pressure tires on the widest rims in the industry — and you've got something too good to miss.

So we suggest — get your hands on a '48 Buick, any '48 Buick, and see just what we mean.

You'll meet a ride story so sweetly convincing, you'll want to get an order in — but quick! And you can do that, you know, with or without a car to trade.

New Kern plant adds 101,000 horsepower to P.G. and E. lines

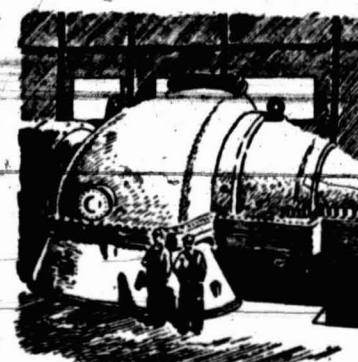

Last week, the first giant generator of P. G. and E.'s new Kern Steam Plant near Bakersfield, began turning out 101,000 electrical horsepower for Northern and Central California. Another and still larger generator will be completed later. This is the 70th major power plant in P. G. and E.'s system...

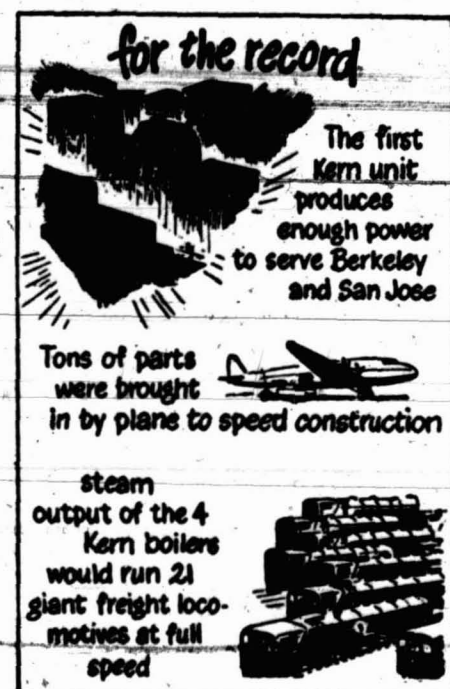

already one of the nation's largest... and the first major unit in a $400,000,000 postwar program to add nearly two million horsepower in generating capacity. Other plants are on the way, some nearing completion. Construction is going full speed ahead all along the line.

Four towering boilers, a full eight stories high, produce superheated steam that makes generators whirl. 40 freight cars of material went into each boiler. They burn either gas or oil to make steam at 935°F. — four times as hot as that from your tea-kettle. It's sent to the turbines under tremendous pressure.

A mighty package of power... this generator is the heart of Kern. It was ordered originally in 1941, re-ordered after V-J Day and received only this year. Beneath its hood, the precision-made generating unit turns at 1800 revolutions per minute, pouring out new electrical energy for homes, farms and factories.

Tons of parts were brought in by plane to speed construction steam output of the 4 Kern boilers would run 21 giant freight locomotives at full speed

Work never stops on our power-building program

Regrets For Carmel

After 22 years of Carmel living, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lincoln sold their home on Twelfth and Camino Real Streets to live in Palo Alto, where the climate seems to be better for Mr. Lincoln's health. New owners of the house are May Robeson and Grace Helliwell of Palo Alto. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln say they find it very hard to tear themselves away from Carmel and readjust to a new environment.

Beach Beans

Stuart Beach was the Saturday night setting for a small beach party composed of Jack and Florence Geisen, John Grace, June Degnan and Michael Franke. The party was held in the rocks right under the Point, which is a good sheltered spot and also a place with the curious feeling that the whole ocean is above you as it rises and rushes against the rocks. A great fire was built with drift wood, cocktails were sipped in the late afternoon sun, and wonderful beans cooked by Mrs. Geisen were eaten.

Watercolor Show

George Post is having an exhibition of his watercolors at the de Young Museum on May 15. Born in Oakland, Mr. Post began his painting career at the California School of Fine Arts and is now teaching at the California College of Arts and Crafts. There's a glimmer and sheen of gold at the HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT where you will find Dirlyte flatware in complete services of six, eight, or twelve sets. Dirlyte is the color of polished gold; it is warm, sun-tan tawny, and it is core-solid, composed entirely of its own substance, like sterling. Its sparkling color suggests interesting table arrangements, casting a reflecting glow over your linen, and glasses and flowers. The two patterns give you a choice of the traditional elegance of curves in the Empress, or the sharper outline feeling of the modern Regal. There are hollow ware pieces in candlesticks, and salt and pepper shakers which are excellent for Golden Wedding Anniversary presents. THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT has a new dirlyte radiance; let it work the same golden miracles for your dining tables.

The N B FLOWER SHOP in the Seven Arts Court has a new shipment of dish garden plants, tropical and semi-tropical. Mrs. Nielsen will be happy to set the plants in your own favorite containers, or to offer for your selection her interesting copper and brass and ceramic bowls. Now you can add to your collection of dish garden plants or have the pleasure of beginning one.

For wandering from your patio to the beach, to cocktails, to avenue promenading, a low cut princess style play dress with escorting jacket is the A-1 solution. You will find these frolic-time gowns at GAIL COUPE'S SHOP on San Carlos, Carmel, and for the casual price of $16.95. The low cut reveals your tan; the pastel colors highlight it. The dresses are cut from the perfect summer material, cool and non-wrinkling butcher linen. Live the coming days of sailing and beaching to the hilt in a play dress from GAIL COUPE'S. Phone 666-W.

The new and beautiful studio of MURL OGDEN on Sixth street near the Post Office does dramatic justice to his collection of striking photographs. A room of green and pale lemon walls holds an old Korean desk, smart subdued rattan furniture and interesting lamps of Chinese red rattan shades on ebony black stands as finished as a piece of sculpture. The simple decor is striking yet subdued background for the photographs taken by MURL OGDEN. They hang about the room giving credence to his masterly technique, and photographic sixth sense. Wander in to see the photographs and be enchanted with the possibility of having your own features reproduced with the same taste and skill.

White, modern, compact and this century beautiful are the O'Keefe and Merritt ranges at WALDO HICKS on Junipero. The ranges are in several different styles; a 40" range with four burners and a griddle and full automatic or with a minute minder. In these de luxe models, the oven is the same height as the broiler. Then there is the smaller 36" model with or without a griddle, which can have a light minute minder. Pep up your kitchen, your meals, and your own cooking moods with a new O'Keefe and Merritt range. It's the center of attraction in the kitchen, anyway, so it might as well be shining and new and to-the-minute useful.

What are the elements you like so well in a Japanese print? You like the simplicity, the delicate line, the complete integration and the undertoned implications. So much taste has gone into the decor of the PINE DEW SUKIYAKI RESTAURANT that you will find in it all the qualities of prints, mainly an harmonious and restful simplicity. Your nerves quiet down preparing you for the advent of exquisitely cooked Japanese food, sukiyaki, which is a subtle blend of beef and vegetables, or tempura, or just plain wonderful special Pine Dew broiled steak. Do not miss the quiet good food and Japanese charm of the PINE DEW SUKIYAKI restaurant on Cass street in Monterey.

Hips go down and beauty goes up. Waists recede and charm advances. Legs taper to slenderness and your Cover Girl potential rises 150 per cent. If you're going to jump into a new tube bathing suit, with every last inch of you never so visible before and never requiring such perfection, you'll want the STAUFFER SYSTEM to smooth away those bulges and bumps. Fashion this year accepts you on no less than goddess terms. You've got to fling away your beach robe and reveal a figure that would make the Venus de Milo feel like an old hag. We know your intentions are good, but get over to the STAUFFER SYSTEM on Mission and Fifth streets and let them put your ideas into shape and your shape into good form. And it's as cheap as it's easy: twelve treatments for $15, and twenty-five for $25. Phone 2101-W.

Pause a moment and think of the most luscious summer dessert possible, the most luscious snack for any old hour of the day. Have you got it? Strawberries and sour cream. All lined up at KIP'S are boxes of delicious ripe rich red Carmel Valley strawberries ready to be tasted; and in the refrigerators are cartons of Golden State sour cream. Flood a bowl of freshly washed strawberries with sour cream and you have an unbeatable, intensely eatable concoction. To see a photograph of this dish would be tempting enough, but to wander into KIP'S and have first hand glimpses of all the heaped up strawberries is irresistible.

If you're a cosmopolite with a flair for international places like Raffles bar, the Cafe Montmartre, Shepheards, or if you're just an ordinary vacationist with two swift weeks at your disposal, there's one place you won't want to miss and that's SADE'S on Ocean Avenue. SADE'S is as international or as provincial as you want. That's its charm. You cross its famous doorstep and step into a room that charms you into feeling at home. It has the grace of a perfect hostess, and you'll know in less than two minutes that it's just the place you've been looking for. You'll see all your old friends and make new ones.

Have you always been intrigued with Mexican blouses, Mexican pottery, Mexican houses and above all Mexican food? Do you feel that you were born for the tropics and just wasting your time in this foggy place? Then hurry over the hill to Huckleberry Hill where you'll find MANUEL'S MEXICAN RESTAURANT ready to revive your spirits and give you nuances and direct hints of a sunnier more charming existence. Mexican pottery and Mexican tin decorate the colorful walls, and Mexican food expertly cooked by Felicitas and charmingly served by Manuel will put your dreams in shape. Lunches and dinners are served every day but Friday.

THE TUCK BOX is reminiscent of old fairy tales where lost children of the forest wander into fabulous huts filled with incredible goodies like orange nut bread, freshly baked, all kinds of jams with an accent on strawberry jam, marmalades, cornish pasties, and everywhere home made pies and cakes and cookies. The children, as you remember, look about in amazement and delight, exactly the reaction you will have when you enter the TUCK BOX and see the exciting eatables spread around you. Wander in, happy children and adults, and give way to all your food fancies.

Set off your brand new tan with a brand new metal cloth bathing suit from MAXINE'S DRESS SHOP. Of real glamor material, the suit is two piece with bands of sea spray aqua and gold diagonal across the front of the shorts and white satin lastex taking care of the rear. The brassiere has a trick pair of straps to be worn over one shoulder, or both if you don't wish to be too extreme. It's a real glamor suit. To go over your bathing suits or your formals, are the grandmother dusters, long, full, quaint, striped in black or cocoa brown with a pocket insignia in metal thread and rhinestones. Also at MAXINE'S the finest of dresses and blouses are on sale at great reduction.

To wear with suits, with skirts, to tuck into shorts or wear casually over bathing suits are the sweaters at BALZER'S CARMEL DEPARTMENT STORE. On sale from $2.95 to $7.95, the sweaters are slippers or cardigans, long sleeved or short, in some of the most exciting colors of the season, fuchsias, pale delicate pinks, wonderful with tans, and sea green blues. Spring time is sweater time for even though the sun is out, slight winds are blowing and you need the extra touch of a sweater over your spring clothes. There are also some very handsome boucle-like knits which should give a dash of elegance to any skirt.

It's sailing time, swimming time, and time to be healthy. Let IDA HANKE give you her European massage and you will feel the blood rushing through your veins as though you were sixteen and in love for the first time. That's the way you should feel all the time. IDA HANKE'S carefully trained and experienced hands know every muscle. Don't feel sluggish and lazy and dull. Be ready for the summer days right ahead of you. Get your health back if you have lost it, or let IDA HANKE tone it up with a good fresher in the way of a European massage.

Waiting for you are hundreds of books at HOLMAN'S BOOK DEN, second floor, all on sale. Starting at .10 and up, you will find anything your literary taste requires in the way of prose, poetry, art books and textbooks. The books were retrieved from the Carmel Booksellers sale and the Corner Book Store in Watsonville. They have really been slashed fifty and seventy-five per cent, and it's a good time to stock up empty library shelves, complete your collection of favorite authors, and acquire books for later holiday gifts.

An hilarious book has just arrived at the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP on Ocean Avenue with the wonderful title of How Lost Was My Week End by David Dodge, author of How Green Was My Father. This is definitely a new sort of travel diary, with the locale in Guatemala, and the week end extending from May to November. Another fascinating new travel book is the Land of Shorter Shadows by the great detective author, Erle Stanley Gardner. The Land of Shorter Shadows is the fascinating region of Baja California, fully explored by Mr. Gardner and traveling friends.

It's 2:30 Sunday afternoon. You have read all the papers, and you are ready for a stroll to the corner of Thirteenth and Lincoln streets, where you'll find EDDA M. HEATH'S (PAPPEL) studio open for your leisurely visiting. Marine oils are exhibited and everyone is invited to wander in, survey the paintings, say hello to their friends and spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon studio visiting with E. M. HEATH (PAPPEL). There is no hint of sales pressure in connection with studying these paintings; it is merely an opportunity for you to visit an open studio and look over some particularly beautiful oils.

With the advent of summer and the re-decoration by owner-manager Tony Kastros, the PRODUCE DEPARTMENT of the CARMEL DRIVE IN has taken on a new sheen and glow. Seasonal currents of light air blow in over the displays. Neatly piled oranges and grapefruit look bright, vegetables are fresh, a table of nuts and dates looks delicious. Mr. Kastros also owns and manages the CARMEL DRIVE IN GROCERY DEPARTMENT and the whole corner of Eighth and Dolores streets has a new summer polish. You'll find this light and sunshine especially appealing for selecting fruit and making your vegetable choice.

The Harrison Memorial Library added two professionally trained assistant librarians on May 1: Mrs. M. I. Edson, for eight years with the Boston Public Library, and Mrs. Paul Marshall, three years with Cleveland Public Library. And on two evenings a week borrowers will find Mrs. Helene Wood at the desk and ready to give any assistance desired.

Vacation In Stockton

Mrs. Andrew Del Monte and her sister, Mrs. Harvey Braunton, left Tuesday for Stockton and Lodi where they will visit with relatives. They will be gone about a week.

Freighter For South America

Dr. Faith Thomas of San Jose and a property owner in Carmel since 1921, who has been visiting for several days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mark Raggett, leaves at the end of this month for a freighter trip around South America. The freighter S. S. Falkanger of the Westfal-Larsen line, proceeds down the west side of South America, stopping at Callao, Autogasta, and Valparaiso. It then goes through the Straits of Magellan and up the eastern coast to Buenos Aires.

After a few days visit there Dr. Thomas will proceed by river steamer up the Rio Plata and Paraguay River to Iguassu Falls. She then will enplane for Rio via San Paulo. From Rio she goes by Pan American Airways to Belem at the mouth of the Amazon. Here she changes to a Catalina flying boat for a trip up the Amazon to Manaus and return. From Belem she flies to Trinidad via the Guianas and hence across northern Venezuela and Colombia to Panama. After a short stop here she flies by way of Central America to Mexico stopping over several days at Guatemala City in order to take the side trip to the Maya Highlands of Chichicastenango and Lake Atitlan and the ancient capital of Antigua. She will then continue her flight to California. She plans to be back here in the early part of August.

This is not Dr. Thomas' first trip to South America. In 1939 she was a delegate of the National Education Association to a World Federation of Educational Associations in Rio. Carousel Fashion Show

Last Friday afternoon the Carousel horse watched with surprised and delighted eyes the gay antics of Carmel Valley lasses who paraded past him in smart summer clothes from the Gail Coupe shop. Due to a smooth working arrangement in which Managers Kay Brownell and Michael Franke, Fashion Displayers Gail and Rodney Coupe, and Valley models all worked together to put on a whopping good fashion show in which everybody had a lot of fun. The Carousel was filled with roses, hats, and a row of husbands lined up at the bar to see how their wives would perform. Hostess Kay Brownell looked unusually smart in a green linen suit with which she wore her own unique jewelry. Other contributors to the sport of fashion were Liz Worthington, who did the commentary, and John Burr, who tossed his lusty bass baritone voice into two intermissions singing Sylvia, Trees, Without a Song, and One Alone.

Valley models Vye Baus, Mary Ann Sweeney, Sally Ferch, Mrs. Robert Stanton, Roe Lingren, Betty Ann Scherman, Peggy Wagner, Barbara Porter, Mary Osborne and Mrs. Frank Porter were professional and chic as they moved past tables, displaying suits, cocktail dresses and bathing suits. Betty Ann Scherman looked highly sophisticated as she trotted about waving a cigarette holder and made another entrance in a toast silk dress and carrying a cocktail glass. Mary Ann Sweeney's blonde hair with tanned skin combined with an excellent bathing suit figure, were highlights of the show, as were the yellow jonquils Mrs. Stanton placed in her hair to go with her yellow and navy play dress. A grand finale was held in which models paraded the clothes they liked best and wished their husbands would buy for them. Some of the interesting hairdos were done by Joan Smith of the Beauty Spot.

Some of the guests at the fashion luncheon were Mrs. Fred Godwin, Mrs. Harry Fry, Mrs. Ken Harbolt, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Tommy Hooper, Mrs. Irene Baldwin, who entertained a table of eight, Mrs. June Degnan, Mrs. Moira Courvoisier, Mrs. Mary A. Miller, Mrs. Gallatin Powers, Mrs. Mabelle Alexander, and Mrs. John Redhead.

There was a cocktail party after the show at the home of Mrs. Peggy Porter Marquard for the models and their friends.

Outstanding Student

Barbara Timmins, who graduated with honors from Carmel High in 1946 and was known as "One of the best graduates we ever had," has done it again. Miss Timmins, and Harold Hunter from Salinas, were voted to receive the outstanding student service awards at Salinas Junior College this week. Both of the students will graduate this June.

Miss Timmins' activities through her college years have ranged beyond her studies and included many assignments such as working as committee head in the very successful Homecoming Day celebration, acting as secretary of the sophomore class, and functioning as president of Alpha Gamma Sigma, college honor society.

House Guest

Mrs. Frances Siminoff Cohn, art director of the magazine Trumpeter, was the weekend house guest of Mrs. Marian Breuck. Mrs. Cohn incidentally appeared at a gallery tea wearing a fabulous hat and dress designed from material she had woven, and it was the most dramatic ensemble we've seen in many a day. The dress was of deep purple with an enormous band around the bottom of woven silver and maroon and purple, and the high dashing hat was made of the same woven silver and colors.

Deborah Zoe

The unusual name of Deborah Zoe was given to little Miss Medley who arrived at the Peninsula Community Hospital on May 7. Her parents are Lt. Commander and Mrs. Russell C. Medley of Carmel.

Fashion Show

A perfect summer day occurred for the Country Shop showing of summer clothes on Wednesday afternoon at the Pine Inn fashion luncheon. As usual Country Shop clothes maintain their long tradition of quiet tailoring, undertoned elegance. Three handsome models, Mrs. Kay Drachnik, Mrs. Edith Clancy, and Mrs. R. L. Kvenild, displayed the clothes.

Striking among the crisp cottons and linens was the gray linen worn by Mrs. Kvenild with interesting belt arrangement and a lot of simplicity and good cut to it; a gray tailored Philip Mangone suit of imported tweed shown by Mrs. Clancy had great dash and manishness, and a gray boucle two piece afternoon suit had all votes for swank at cocktail time. The boucle was worn by Mrs. Drachnik, had a gold belt and tiny metal insignia on one shoulder.

Loveliest of the evening gowns which drifted through the dining room and patio was the full skirted white gown with black lace top gracefully shown by Mrs. Drachnik. The exquisite piece of black lace, tied at the throat and waist with black velvet ribbon, curved in a scalloped panel almost down to the knees in front and then cut back to the waist. Mrs. Clancy also displayed a striking evening gown of white crepe, with huge crepe pockets which flared out to form an inverted triangle of the skirt.

P. T. A. Activities

The final meeting of the Carmel P. T. A. was held last Tuesday at Sunset School with the retiring president, Mrs. Thomas E. Elston, presiding. After the reading of the yearly reports, the formal installation of the incoming officers took place: President, Mrs. Mark Raggett; vice-president, Mrs. Paul Chedester; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Roberts; recording secretary, Mrs. Roderick Wilson, and treasurer, Mrs. Edmond Sullivan.

Mrs. Edna Lockwood then introduced Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger who started the Carmel P. T. A. 22 years ago and was its first president. The P. T. A. presented Mrs. Schoeninger with a life membership in the State P. T. A.

An amendment to the by-laws was passed to the effect that there be a second vice-president elected to the board of directors who would be a high school mother and who would preside at all meetings held at the high school. Mrs. Julian von Meier's name was nominated from the floor and she was unanimously elected.

Stuart Mitchell announced an important meeting of the committee for redistricting of Peninsula schools to be held from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., Thursday, May 20, at the Church of the Wayfarer. Mrs. Gladys Johnston explained the great need for workers and funds for the Army-Navy YMCA in Monterey which has taken over USO duties since the war.

The meeting was concluded with a tea at which Mrs. B. McK Doolittle acted as hostess and Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger and Mrs. Edmond Sullivan poured.

Americanism Meeting

The annual open Americanism program meeting of Carmel Unit No. 512 of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the Legion Hall. High point of the meeting was the announcement of the winners of the regional Americanism essay contest. For Carmel High School, Ursula Bartless, Julia Graves, Bob Barry and Bob Burgess were the winners; Peggy Weaver and Pauline Gonzales were the winners from Sunset School.

Awards were made by visiting Thirteen District President Mrs. Vivian Wright. Other addenda on the program were the reports given by the 1947-48 girl state representatives, Peggy Riker for 1947 and for 1948 Anne Fratessa.

Filling out the guest list were the invitations extended to Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, Rev. Alfred Seacombe, and Dr. Blanchard Steeves, to Sunset and high school principals and English teachers, to members of the Legion Post No. 512, and Auxiliary units of Monterey, Watsonville, Salinas, King City, and Hollister.

A. A. U. W. Convention

Mrs. Norman Naas, president of Monterey Peninsula American Association of University Women, and Miss Marie Schatz, treasurer, are voting delegates to the state convention of the organization which is being held today and tomorrow at the Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco. Other members on the Peninsula who planned to attend are Mrs. Gordon Beall, past president; Mrs. Thor Krogh, Mrs. John Gratiot, Mrs. J. O. Tostevin, all of Monterey, and Miss Eleanor M. Henry, and Miss L. Lucile Turner, of Carmel.

Surprise Party

Last Sunday evening, after the Youth Fellowship meeting, twenty-eight members gathered at the home of Barbara Teschke and moved quietly to the home of Landis Crosby where they surprised him with gifts and congratulations on his twenty-third birthday. Everyone went dressed in children's clothes, and they played games out in front on a well-lit lawn. Afterwards they enjoyed refreshments of cherry jello and animal crackers and fruit punch in the Landis home.

This Sunday evening the Youth Fellowship group will be led by Roland Newcomb on the topic of Why Don't We Behave Like Human Beings. The following discussion will be conducted by Colleen Dolan and Ben Viljoen.

Attends Dance School

Attending the School of the Dance at New York University-Connecticut College School at New London, Connecticut, this summer will be Carmel's Joan Larkey, who will study with artists and teachers Martha Graham, Doris Humphrey, Jose Limon, Martha Hill, and Delia Hussey.

Pasadena and Palm Springs

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goecker of Carmel Woods have gone on a ten day vacation south to visit Carl Minecke, who is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. R. Sumpf of Flintridge near Pasadena. Mr. Minecke was one of the first home owners of Carmel Woods. Mr. and Mrs. Goecker expect to go to Palm Springs after their Pasadena visit and then on to San Diego and lower California.

Education Society

Mrs. Ann B. Uzzell is leaving today for Pasadena to attend the state convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma society, a national organization for women in education. Mrs. Uzzell is the vice-president and a charter member of the Alpha Lambda chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma of Monterey county. She will return late Sunday night.

Crosby To Arrive

Mr. and Mrs. Bing Crosby are expected on the Peninsula around May 20. They will stay at the Pine Inn, and Mr. Crosby will play in the Swallows tournament to be held June 5 and 6 at the Cypress Point Club.

Lloyd Miller On Panel

The Northern California Branch of the National Vocational Guidance Association held its spring conference on vocational guidance, Saturday, May 8, at Stanford University. During the afternoon session a panel discussion was held on Mutual Responsibilities of Counselors and Vocational Teachers. Chairman of the group was Dr. H. B. McDaniel, associate professor of education and psychology. Lloyd Miller, business and commercial teacher at Carmel High School, was a member of the panel and gave a stimulating talk on Business Education.

Boy Scout Activities

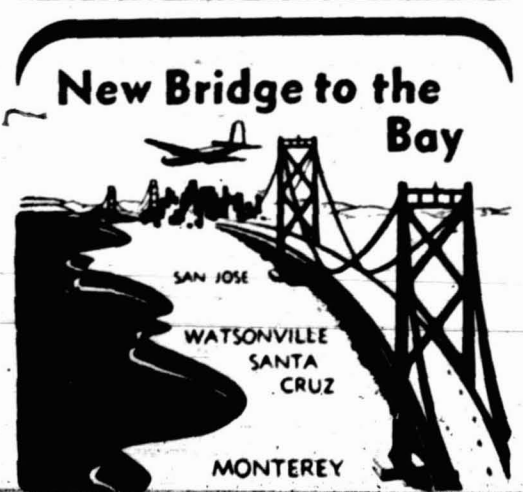

Col. Allen Griffin and Major R. J. Compton will be guest speakers at a Monterey Peninsula Boy Scout Court of Honor to be held in the Sunset School Auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The event will be a joint affair with Scouts from Carmel, Pacific Grove, and Monterey districts participating. Carmel Scouts from Troops 32 and 86 will handle stage setting and decorations in addition to receiving awards for advancement. Carmel Scoutmasters are Carl Bensberg and Bill Smith. Both Carmel troops will also handle the closing ceremony.

Parents and friends of Scouts are being issued invitational tickets, but everyone is welcome with or without a ticket. Return of tickets at the door will be used as a basis for troop attendance awards.

Features of general interest on the program, with Col. Griffin acting as master of ceremonies, will be a talk, Survival, by Major Compton, Bataan death march survivor, and a camping skit and demonstration by Troop 90 of Pacific Grove.

'Cellist Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schuster are visiting in Carmel as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Shephard. Mr. Schuster is enjoying a vacation here after an arduous winter of concert touring as 'cello soloist. Formerly first 'cellist with the New York Philharmonic, he has been giving concerts for the past few years, and will begin another series this summer.

Sport Notes

fighting men of Huffman belted out a 10-7 decision. With this victory, the Shamrocks and Giants go into a tie for first place.

The Pilot-Tiger game was a ding-dong affair, with the issue in doubt until two extra innings had been played. In spite of Newsom's booming home run over the left fielder's head, the Giles-led Tigers came through when the chips were down and eked out a 10-9 verdict. Although Knight's Pilots have taken their share of lickings this season, they always bounce back for another try and put out a noble effort in each game.

Next Sunday will wind up the current Abalone League season unless a tie should develop for the top spot. In case of a tie one extra game will be played to decide the champ. Sunday's games will find the Pilots and Giants squaring off at 1:30, and the Tigers testing the Shamrocks at 2:30.

TEN CARMEL BOYS IN NORTH COAST SECTION MEET

All the Carmel boys who qualified for competition in the NCS meet at Berkeley will make the trip to the University of California Saturday. Leading the Carmel entries will be Bob Barry, who is defending champion in the mile run. Bob won the mile in the fine time of 4:33 last year and then went on to run third in the state meet.

Herman Menezes, CCAL 880 champion, will take a fling at Northern California's best in the half-mile. Legare McNeill, ace lightweight hurdler, will try for points in the 120 yard barriers. Paul Warner, varsity hurdler, will compete in both the highs and lows. Dick Taplin will skim the discus against the strong men of the Bay Area. A lightweight relay team of Ed Goodrick, Jim Harget, Aram Tootelian, and Legare McNeill will represent the Red and Gray. Steve Whitaker, lightweight pole vaulter, has a good chance of breaking into the first five bamboo climbers. Coach Howard Byrne will accompany his charges to the meet.

Alumni Honors

Stanley McCaffrey has been selected alumni successor to Robert Sibley, which means that he will be executive manager of the University of California at Berkeley alumni association. Mr. Sibley will retire on June 30, 1949. Mr. McCaffrey is now co-ordinator of Veterans Affairs at the University. He graduated there in 1938 as ASUC president. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, played baseball and football, and was a Lt. Commander in the Navy during the war. At the present time he is head of personnel and advertising at the Kaiser-Frazier Manufacturing Co. in Oakland.

Mrs. E. D. Connelly, mother of Mrs. MacCaffrey, is now living in Carmel.

Big Club Weekend

The Monterey Peninsula Country Club has a big weekend planned for May 28, 29 and 30, at which time the Sunnyside Club, Fresno home and home match with the Country Club will take place. On that Friday evening will be a stag dinner and Calcutta pool with dinner at the Mission Ranch club planned for the ladies. Carrying on with the weekend will be a formal dance for Fresno and Monterey Club members and Sunday morning golfers will tee off in the annual home and home tournament. That evening there will be more dining and dancing.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, May 16, with the Golden Text taken from I Corinthians: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (15:49).

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

Psalms: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness" (17:15).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As mortals give up the delusion that there is more than one Mind, more than one God, man in God's likeness will appear, and this eternal man will include in that likeness no material element" (p. 191).

Possibilities For Good In Atomic Energy Discussed

cer and heart disease. Steel may be made stronger, electric wire more conductive, friction in machines may be reduced, new alloys may be perfected.

These are only a few of the extraordinary developments that will make life better understood, easier and more fruitful, if the possibilities of atomic energy can be developed and its destructive influences be avoided.

The group studying atomic implications will meet every Thursday night in Room 11 in Sunset School, at 7:30 p. m. until further notice. It is a project of the Adult Education Program, Zenas L. Potter serving as moderator. Everyone is invited to join the group without charge.

In addition to group study and discussion, the latest atomic films will be shown from time to time, and there will be occasional outside speakers. When the latter are outstanding, they may be shared, through mass meetings, with the general public.

Next Thursday evening the group will begin study of atomic weapons and their implications in relation to our national security. After several meetings on different phases of this subject, various proposals for world control will be studied.

First rule of the group is that no member or the moderator will seek to sell his ideas to the others. The facts will be examined, their implications studied. Whether or not the group will reach common agreements only the future can tell.

P. D.

Police were on the lookout this week for Milton "Chris" Randle on bad check charges brought by William W. Leathe of Carmel. In a complaint sworn before Judge George Ross of the Carmel Police Court on Monday of last week, Leathe said that Randle had given him a check for $150 drawn on the Carmel branch of the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank, and that he also had in his possession an IOU for $150 from Randle, due April 5. Randle came to the Peninsula about two years ago, and had been employed as a bartender until he left town a short time ago.

Carmel police were called at noon Thursday by the Carmel fire department to investigate a series of false alarms turned in from the emergency telephone on the beach at Thirteenth and Scenic Drive. Police found evidences of vandalism in the form of several boards torn from the telephone box, but the offenders had fled.

lier date would conflict with the schedules of teachers teaching summer school. A motion was passed to extend the leave of absence granted Jean Staffebach and to appoint Mrs. Audrey Crawford to her position for the period of one year.

Four new teachers were accepted by the board: high school, Mrs. Marie Fenner, Edward J. Kincaid, and I. A. Belangee; Sunset School, Neva June Gribble.

SIGHTSEEING FRANCHISE

The battle for the franchise for daily sightseeing tours of the Peninsula was still going on as The Pine Cone went to press Thursday. Up until Thursday noon the hearing, before Examiner T. M. Gannon of the State Public Utilities Commission at Few Memorial Hall, included testimony for the Bay Rapid Transit only.

J. Harold Harper, B.R.T. manager, presented resolutions of endorsement from the Pacific Grove and Monterey Chambers of Commerce, the Norberg Travel service, and from the Carmel Businessmen's Association, represented by Wesley Kergan of Carmel.

The Gray Line, Inc., the other contender, with headquarters in San Francisco, had not yet been heard by the commission. The hearing began Wednesday morning. The franchise would allow two sightseeing trips a day, including Monterey, the 17 Mile Drive, Carmel Mission, Carmel Art Gallery and scenic points.

For Printing that is distinctive—Telephone 2, The Pine Cone Press.

Hi Chatter...

By Peggy Riker

With spring in the air the girls' sports calendar has turned to the tennis and badminton courts as well as the baseball diamond. Tuesday 20 softball enthusiasts traveled to Gonzales to challenge that school's champions. Carmel High School's two teams, composed of the champion sophomore team and the junior squad, were thus given their first opportunity of the season to pit their skill against that of a team from another school.

Gonzales beat the juniors, 7 to 3; the seniors, 7 to 5, but the Carmel sophomores won their game, 8 to 7.

For the third consecutive year 16 Carmel tennis players are scheduled to join with 16 Monterey tennis fans for a tennis playday this Saturday, after which the girls may treat themselves to a welcome dip in the Monterey pool. Beginning the last week in May five girls and five boys are joining together from each class to form four co-recreational softball teams which will tussle during the noon period for the enjoyment of both the teams and the student body.

CARMEL PISTOL CLUB

Members of the Carmel Pistol Club are urged to be at the outdoor range Sunday morning at 10:30, Arthur Hull, secretary, announced this week. This shoot will establish handicaps for the shooting match to be held May 23.

NAVAL SCHOOL TRAINING SHIP

The "long hull" destroyer USS De Haven arrived in Monterey Sunday to report for duty as training ship for the U. S. Naval School at Del Monte. Commissioned in 1944, and a veteran of the naval battles of Leyte, Luzon, and Okinawa, she will replace the USS John W. Thomason, and is expected to be in use here for the next eleven weeks.

Residents of the Peninsula will remember the De Haven as a participant in the Navy Day exercises in Monterey Bay in October, 1945.
